Maintenance tips:

✓ Liquids or grease in contact with wood?

Clean immediately, do not wait!

Do not forget to protect surfaces with a table set or a tablecloth.

✓ Liquids or encrusted grease?

Did you leave grease or a liquid in contact with the wood for too long?

Use a very fine grain sandpaper and begin sanding in the direction of the wood's grain.

If the stain is light it will disappear, if it is deeply-set it will be difficult to budge.

✓ Additional protection?

If you want to add an additional layer of protection, choose to apply a matted clear varnish, always test it on a hidden part of the piece of furniture to find out whether that the appearance of the patina is altered.

✓ Despite these precautions, if you make a mistake ;-)

Don't worry! Solid wood has the advantage of lasting for life: You will always be able to set off on a "Do It Yourself" mission to completely sand and dye the damaged part.

Do not hesitate to ask us for advice!

✓ And do not forget: Never use detergents or harsh substances for wood and never place pots, pans or heat sources directly onto the wood.
